Spiritual Emphasis Touches Students

Mark Warder of Pulse Ministries spoke to area students at a Youth Event Sunday night. He then spent Monday and Tuesday teaching our students during several sessions for Spiritual Emphasis.

JVC Sophomore Braylynn Hood reflected on the time, exclaiming, "It was so good! On Sunday night Mark talked about how my identity should be found in the One who named me. Teens are always trying to find value in how we look, our grades, being the MVP or whatever. What God says we are is not of this world. We mean so much to Him!"

Senior Isaac Korell shared, "The message that really hit home for me was how only my Creator can name me. The world can call me things, but that does not define me. I was created for a purpose. Everyone has a purpose and mine is different from all of my friends, teachers, and family but equally as important."

No Name in the Street Ticket Sales Continue

As of this printing, 75% of our tickets for the Stewardship Dinner Theater have been sold!

No Name in the Street by Edward Murch will be presented Friday and Saturday evenings April 5 and 6 at JVCS. Doors open at 5:30. Dinner will be served at 6:00.

Before dinner, guests are welcome to shop in the marketplace for items like nuts, poppy seed, and baked goods. The homemade meal includes mixed green salad with sesame vinaigrette, dinner roll, savory meatballs with cream sauce, twice baked mashed potatoes, glazed carrots and a dessert bar. During dinner, guests will enjoy a variety of musical entertainment from some favorite local musicians. Following the meal, the featured presentation will be held in the auditorium. Visitors will sit back and enjoy the touching play about the week leading up to Jesus' crucifixion.

Tickets are available for purchase at www.jvcs.org or at the school.
